

LEASED LINE is a telecommunications line with high speed Internet access which has symmetric ratio of 1:1 transferred through private channel by cooper or fiber. This line is connected between NetNam and customer's address and comes up to every demand of Internet access speed, from 64Kbps to 1Gbps.

Leased line has a special feature of private connection for each customer which provides a highly stable, reliable, always-on, fixed and secured service.

Because the connection of this customer does not carry anybody else's communication, leased line can assure a given level of quality.
